ABSTRACT

Tri Mulyanugrahah HS, 2022. The Students' Readiness in Facing Offline Class After Pandemic COVID-19 at The Eleventh Grade Students' of UPT SMAN 4 Parepare. Supervised by Salasiah, dan Ika Yanti Ziska.

The COVID-19 virus in Indonesia is currently having an impact on the entire community and also has an impact in various fields such as social, economic, religious fields, including the field of education. In the field of education, the government has set one policy, namely online schools as a solution during the current pandemic.

This study was conducted to determine how prepared students' readiness in facing offline classes after the COVID-19 pandemic. This research used desciptive qualitative approach and the data analysis Braun and Clarke. Participants in this study were 11th grade students of SMAN 4 Parepare which consisted of 15 students. The data in this study were obtained using semi-structured interviews and chosing random samplin.

From the results of the study, it is known that the students are ready for offline learning to be held at school. They are ready if given unfixed study schedule, facing new media and different learning methods during offline learning. Most importantly, students will also continue to apply health protocols during offline learning. In addition, the students were also enthusiastic about the resumption of offline learning because they found it difficult to understand the material given by their teacher during online learning, and also because they met again with their teacher and classmates.

ABSTRAK

Tri Mulyanugrahah HS, 2022. Kesiapan Siswa Belajar Offline Pasca Pandemi Covid-19 Dikelas Sebelas UPT SMAN 4 Parepare. Supervised by Salasiah, dan Ika Yanti Ziska.

Virus COVID-19 di Indonesia saat ini berdampak bagi seluruh masyarakat dan juga berdampak di berbagai bidang seperti bidang sosial, ekonomi, agama, tidak terkecuali bidang pendidikan. Di bidang pendidikan pemerintah telah menetapkan salah satu kebijakan yaitu sekolah online sebagai salah satu solusi di masa pandemi sekarang ini.

Penelitian ini dilakukan untukk mengetahui bagaimana kesiapan siswa untuk menghadapi kelas offline setelah pandemi COVID-19. Penelitian ini menggunakan pendekatan deskriptif kualitatif dan analisis data Braun and Clarke. Peserta dalamm penelitian ini merupakan siswa kelas 11 SMAN 4 Parepare yang terdiri dari 15 orang siswa. Data dalam penelitian ini ini didapatkan dengan menggunakan wawancara semi struktur dan pemilihan sampel secara acak.

Dari hasil penelitian diketahui bahwa para siswa telah siap dengan akan diadakannya pembelajaran offline di sekolah. Mereka telah siap jika diberi jadwal belajara yang tidak menentu, menghadapi media dan metode pembelajaran baru yang berbeda selama pembelajaran offline. Yang paling penting para siswa juga akan tetap menerapkan protokol kesehatan selama pembelajaran offline berlangsung. Selain itu para siswa juga merasa antusias dengan akan diadakannya kembali pembelajaran offline karena mereka merasa kesulitan memahami materi yang diberikan oleh guru mereka selama pembelajaran online, dan juga karena mereka kembali bertemu dengan guru dan teman sekelas mereka.
